Marlboro Team Penske Race Guide

THE RACE

MARLBORO GRAND PRIX OF MIAMI
- Qualifying - Saturday, March 1
- Race Day - Sunday, March 2
- Track - Homestead Motorsports Complex, 1.5-mile oval, 200 laps

The Marlboro Grand Prix is the season's first race, running the new '97 cars and engines through a very tough test. The track is a state-of-the-art speedway with a classic oval shape: wide straight-aways, squared-off corners and just enough banking to maintain high speeds. To win here, drivers must be able to pass in traffic and make clean, well-timed pit stops.

THE DRIVERS

AL UNSER JR.

Now in his 4th year with Marlboro Team Penske, Al is one of the most successful drivers in PPG World Series history, with 31 career victories and two season championships. Al brings leader-ship, confidence and experience to the team. He's a proven winner who is always in contention for the championship.

PAUL TRACY

In only five full seasons, Paul has become one of the premier drivers on the PPG World Series circuit, with 10 wins and 9 poles. The former Indy Lights champion is not afraid to take risks and his all-out, can-do attitude makes him one of the fiercest competitors on the track.

THE MACHINES

Al and Paul both drive the '97 Marlboro Penske Mercedes. The car is powered by a turbocharged Mercedes V8 that puts out 700 horsepower at 14,200 r.p.m. Its top speed runs about 240m.p.h.--faster than a 747 on take-off. More than 2,000 drawings and blueprints are used in the design of the Marlboro Penske chassis, marked by the unique "shark's fin" which runs along the top of the engine cover.
